Team Bond of Ocean Atlantic Agency: Senior Real Estate Specialists

Jeff and Susie Bond of Ocean Atlantic Agency have just received their Senior Real Estate Specialist (SRES®) Designation after attending a two-day training course and passing a required qualifying exam. The couple has been with Ocean Atlantic Agency for two years and has been closely involved with Ocean Atlantic's New 55+ Community, Independence. "With the large number of retirees moving to Sussex County every year, we felt a need to gain all the knowledge and experience that we could. We have a sincere desire to serve and support our clients in this age group and feel that we have been trained to the best of our ability," stated Susie Bond.

According to AARP, the fastest growing segment of the current population is age 75+. 83% of seniors are property owners and 63% own their home free and clear. AARP also stated that between the years of 1998 and 2000, over 8 million seniors changed residences. Susie stated, "In knowing the statistics of this particular age group, it amazed me to learn that out of 1.4 million REALTORS® in this country, only 12,000 have earned the SRES® designation."

Along with the SRES® designation, Jeff and Susie also became members of the Senior Advantage Real Estate Council (SAREC®). This membership will allow them to be a part of an exclusive networking group that offers continuing education programs on the Senior Real Estate Market.
